

Who Wrote Them?

Between living near various colleges and universities throughout her life, serving as a college counselor for most of her professional life, and then easily surviving her daughter's successful journey to college and beyond, Julie Bruner has compiled all of her experience, skill, and know-how into Getting My tail Into College. Julie has created the perfect tool to help juniors and seniors "demystify" the whole college process. Pulling together all of her work as a guidance/college counselor in a gifted high school program, and providing this important "stuff" into her college planners, Julie offers juniors and seniors a proven formula that will help them "get their tail into college."
